PROBABLE CHANGES

New Era in Standard Oil Company's Affairs.

CHANGES IN THE PERSONNEL

Believed Younger Element in Great Corporation Is Coming to Front and Older Men Will Relinquish Active Control.

New York, Sept. 20.—Wall street generally believes that a new era in the personnel in the Standard Oil company's leaders is beginning.

It is thought that the younger element in the great corporation is coming to the front and that the older element is relinquishing its active hold upon the affairs of the company and those of the vast interests which have been affiliated with it under John D. Rockefeller, Jr., William G. Rockefeller, Urban H. Bronghton, a son-in-law of H. H. Rogers, and H. H. Rogers, Jr., are among the younger men who are looked upon by the street as now directing affairs.

William Rockefeller is regarded as likely to take a principal part still in the company's councils, but most of the other men who have been called the makers of the Standard Oil company, including John D. Rockefeller, Jr., John D. Archbold and H. H. Rogers, are expected to leave to their juniors the task of handling the giant business which they founded.

What leads the street to hold these views is the recent action of the directors of the company. They ordered the company to cut down its output of stock to one-half the normal. It is held that this is a departure from the policy which was pursued several years ago when the copper market was declining and that it signifies that the younger element is in control.

PRIEST GUILTY OF MURDER.

Rev. Sazzyiel Convicted of the Murder of Two Brothers.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 20.—Ludwig Sazzyiel, the Russian Catholic priest from Chicago, who has been on trial for the murder of Andrew and Stephen Starynsky, brothers, was convicted of murder in the second degree.

The trial, which was one of the shortest important murder trials tried in the Allegheny courts, was a concatenation of sensational testimony and features. To protect himself from the supreme penalty, the priest unburdened his past life, frankly confessing his many shortcomings, especially his drunkenness.

During his testimony he admitted that Francesca Sprow, his housekeeper, who was in the house when the double murder was committed, had accompanied him to the city from Chicago. It developed that the housekeeper occupied the same room with one of the Starynsky brothers, following which admission District Attorney Goehring remarked:

"There you have the motive."

Cotton Rushed to Augusta.

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 20.—The cotton rush in Augusta is well under way, and the clerks of cotton row, as well as the freight departments of the railroads, are working day and night to handle the staple. Receipts up to date are considered remarkable. Three thousand, eight hundred and fifty-five bales were received Wednesday, bringing the total for the three days of the week to 9,006. The sales amounted to 1,775 bales for the day and 6,383 for the three days. The receipts since September 1 have been 26,910, and the stock is 30,914.

McCune was one of the best known industrial operators in this district.

PUT BULLET IN BRAIN.

Kidnaper Harrison, Facing 20 Years in Pen, Suicide.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 20.—Harrison, he could be apprehended by the local police at the request of the North Carolina authorities, Joseph Harrison, of North Carolina, that state put a bullet in his brain late Wednesday afternoon at the Gloucester house. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital, and attending physicians there there is no hope of recovery.

Harrison was convicted of abducting the infant Rosalee, a son of State Senator Henry Harrison. The alleged act was committed in 1905. The child was never found. Harrison was given twenty years in the penitentiary. His application for a new trial was denied by the supreme court.

Wednesday afternoon the Norfolk police were notified that he had come to the city, and were asked to arrest and disarm him, as he had threatened to commit suicide. He has a married daughter residing here, whom Mrs. Harrison is visiting.

Detectives located him at the Gladstone hotel. A bell boy was sent up with the request that he come to the phone, but he only laughed, declaring that the police could not trap him so easily. He closed and locked his room door, and before the police could get back to the officers the report of the pistol was heard. The bullet entered the right temple and traversed the brain. Harrison left no statement of any kind.

MANY BOLD HOLD-UPS.

Knoxville Crooks Relieve Pedestrians of Cash and Valuables.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 20.—Three daring hold-ups Wednesday night occurred within one hour's time, and gave the police force and deputy sheriff a lively time.

Shortly after 7 o'clock two men, unmasked, walked into Froneberger, Mills & Co.'s clothing store and held up Mr. Froneberger, a member of the firm, relieving him of $15 and his watch and jewelry.

They were next heard of in West Knoxville, where they held up a street car and took what money the conductor had. Next they held up a bookkeeper enroute home and relieved him of money and watch.

The men, who proved to be local crooks, were arrested at the Louisville and Nashville depot as they were preparing to leave town. On the previous night two other hold-ups had been pulled off, and in each instance money and jewelry were taken.

Trial of the Jones Boys.

Eatonville, Ga., Sept. 20.—The case of the state against Albert and Porter Jones, charged with the murder of Robert Adams last June, was taken up in superior court Wednesday. The prosecution is represented by the entire local bar, and the defendants by Hans, John R. Cooper and Alex. Anderson, of Macon, and Hon. Percy Middlebrooks, of Madison. The Jones boys moved for a change of venue on the grounds that the state could not secure a fair trial in this county, and introduced witnesses to establish grounds for his motion, but he was overruled by the court.

Claxton, Ga., Sept. 20.—The Southern Express company's office and Sea board Air line railway depot was burglarized here Wednesday morning between midnight and daylight. The express company's safe was blown open. The only money in the express company's safe was a package containing $100, shipped by H. W. Gorton & Co., of Savannah, to H. L. Purvis, of Oke, Ga. This package was divided up by the burglars and left unmarked.

They also secured the safe of J. A. Cobb, another merchant, and secured $2,000 in cash and $7,000 worth of valuable papers.

The burglars then stole the sheriff's horse and made good their escape.

The sheriff immediately organized a posse, and near Gadsden, Miss., 15 miles from Vernon, got near enough to the robbers to capture and stolen horse.

The posse is still in pursuit, and a battle is expected.

Dickson's friends and employers in London appealed to the Salvation Army headquarters there for assistance in the search, offering a substantial reward either for information concerning his whereabouts or for proof of his death.

Dickson came here from London on a business trip for his firm on March 20, and went to the Hotel Astor. The next day he packed his grip and said he was going to Wilmington, Del. BODIES TRANSFERRED.

Remains of Martyred President and Wife Removed to Mausoleum.

Canon, Colo., Sept. 20.—Wednesday night the new vault containing the remains of Mrs. McKinley rested in a sarcophagus in the McKinley mausoleum on Monument Hill. On guard at the tomb are United States regular soldiers. A half mile distant to the south in the vault that has held the remains of President McKinley, still rests the body of the late president, but in a new casket. Here, too, soldiers are on watch.

The work of transferring the remains of the McKinleys to the mausoleum was entrusted by the McKinley association to a Canon undertaker.

Wednesday the bodies were taken from the other caskets which have held the president and wife since death, and laid in the duplicate caskets, especially constructed for the mausoleum. The state of preservation of both bodies was pronounced remarkably good by the undertaker and others who saw them.

The work of transferring the caskets was done with as much privacy as possible. The casket containing the president's remains will be transferred to the sarcophagus, which is the nation's gift.

There has been much speculation as to what the governor will base his proclamation on. He stated Wednesday that he will specifically name the necessary for further legislation to govern the common carriers in Alabama. Further than this he would not commit himself, but intimated that other legislation which the legislature might want to enact could be taken up by a vote of 75 per cent of the members.

Reconciliation Between Father and Son Occurs in Court.

New York, Sept. 20.—Father and son, the former a wealthy physician, the latter a prisoner in the night court on a charge of begging, have been reconciled as the result of the young man's examination by Magistrate Breen.

Magistrate Breen, who obtained the young man's story, remanded him to the prison connected with the court, and thither the father drove Thursday morning to obtain the son's release.

When Dr. Whitney informed the magistrate that he was willing to take his son home, Magistrate Breen signed the discharge papers. Then father and son met. They were closeted for nearly an hour and when they opened the door they were arm in arm. Father and son left the court room, got into a cab and went home together.

CHARACTER OF STROUSE COMPLETELY VINDICATED BY JUDGE PRITCHARD

Man of High Standing and Character Is Court's Finding.

EVIDENCE OF HIGH
NATURE IS OFFERED

Presents Affidavits From High
Sources to Prove His Character.

From The Asheville (N. C.) Citizen, Sept. 18.

With the signing of the final decree in the Strouse-Hendersonville Auditorium case and the complete vindication of the moral character of Dr. Clarence B. Strouse, the much talked of case came to an end yesterday afternoon, both sides seeming well content over the outcome. The reading of the affidavits submitted by Dr. Strouse to refute the attack made on his moral character, by some of the affidavits introduced in the former hearing, was begun in the auditorium yesterday morning, and after they were read Dr. Strouse himself took the stand and gave his version of the entire affair, giving explanations of the incidents alluded to by the affidavits in their affidavits, and was completely satisfactory, and after hearing the affidavits and the testimony, Judge Pritchard announced as the finding of the court "That Dr. Strouse is a man of high standing and character."

Character of Evidence.

Probably the most notable feature of the entire hearing was the character of affidavits submitted by Dr. Strouse. Governor Beckham of Kentucky, in his affidavit, stated that he had known Dr. Strouse for years intimately and he knew him to be a gentleman. Dr. Strouse's affidavit was signed by Dr. Strouse and to the line character he bore. Beside these there were affidavits from Chastanqua written from all parts of the country. Dr. Strouse was with whom Dr. Strouse had been associated, and the mayor of his home town and other prominent citizens there, all of whom gave him the best of characters, not only morally but in a business way as well. In announcing the finding of the court Judge Pritchard took occasion to commend Dr. Strouse on the character of evidence offered by him.

In the finding of the court Judge Pritchard stated "that after a careful finding of the evidence offered at the hearing, as well as the evidence of the former hearing touching on the character of Dr. Strouse, it afforded him great pleasure to say that Dr. Strouse was a high-toned gentleman."

Are All Satisfied.

In the final decree which was signed by Judge Pritchard the Auditorium contract is cancelled and each side agree to pay its own costs, except that Dr. Strouse agrees to pay the court's costs. This ending to a case that has been fraught with bitterness on both sides seems to bring entire satisfaction. The Auditorium company declare that all they want after they got, namely the cancellation of the Auditorium contract, and that they were perfectly well satisfied with the result. On the other hand, Dr. Strouse's counsel claim that though forced to make concessions to get an opportunity to introduce their evidence to disprove the charges made against the moral character of their client, the result is a complete victory for them. They hold that as their client was not only willing but desirous of letting go of a contract that from a financial standpoint was an undesirable one, this was no loss to him, that he held his Chastanqua in the building, that the Auditorium, being mortgaged to its value, he holding an over-due mortgage, which will compel its sale, and further, that the inclusion into the agreement by the defense that no damage suits would result, was a strong point in Dr. Strouse's favor. Further, they say that had it not been for the technicality that forced them to make these concessions something would have "dropped," as Dr. Strouse is said to have in his possession affidavits that would have made some of the opposition "sit up and take notice."

Everyone connected with the case is apparently glad that an amicable settlement has been reached, and that strong feeling that has characterized the case from the beginning is almost lost.

The following is a copy of the final decree signed by Judge Pritchard:

In the Circuit Court of the United States, for the Western District of North Carolina, Fourth Circuit, at Asheville. In Equity.

Clarence B. Strouse vs. The Hendersonville Auditorium Company.

Final Decree.

This cause coming on to be heard before His Honor, J. C. Pritchard, Judge, and being heard, and it appearing to the court that the parties, plaintiff and defendant, have by agreement in writing filed herein duly stipulated that "the court shall hear the evidence of Dr. Strouse" (the plaintiff), "and the witness offered by him, together with the affidavits he has prepared, and that if the court finds as a fact that Dr. Strouse is innocent, or to the contrary, of the charges against him, that said findings shall be incorporated into the decree to be rendered herein, as a part of the same, and that the court shall then, by consent, decree a cancellation of the contract set up in the bill;" and the court having heard the evidence of the plaintiff, Strouse, and the other witnesses offered by him, together with said affidavits, and all the evidence in the case.

The court finds as a fact:

That Dr. Strouse is a man of high standing and character.

And, by consent of parties, it is adjudged and decreed that the contract set up in the bill filed herein, be and the same is hereby cancelled.

It is further adjudged that each side, the plaintiff and the defendants, shall pay its own costs, except that the plaintiff, Clarence B. Strouse, shall pay all cost of the court to be taxed by the clerk, but in said costs there shall not be charged any tax fees to attorneys.

The clerk will enter this decree of record.

This, the 17th day of September, 1907.

In a slow, trembling and most pitiful tone he asked the Lord to save him. When the worst of the storm was over he opened his eyes, and upon looking out at the door, said, 'I'll be —, if the hail hasn't ruined my tobacco patch!'"

HORRIBLE MURDER NEAR LAWTEY

Charles Gouger Is Brutally Killed
At His Country Home.

EVIDENCE POINTS TO NEGRO

As One Who Committed Dastardly Crime—Gouger Was a Prominent Farmer and His Wife Was Absent on Night of Murder.

Lawtey, Sept. 20.—The town was thrown in a state of intense excitement early Thursday morning by the announcement that Mr. Charles P. Gouger, one of the leading farmers of this section, was found dead at his home one mile west of town. Investigation showed the report to be true, he evidently having been assassinated some time during Wednesday night.

Mrs. Gouger had received a letter Tuesday stating that her father was very ill and she left Tuesday afternoon, so Mr. Gouger was alone all of Wednesday night, and this is the time the assassin selected to do his deadly work. While Mr. Mercer, who works for Mr. Gouger, but lives some distance away, was at the barn feeding the horses early Thursday morning, Sam Ballinger, colored, came up and asked Mercer what all that shooting during the night meant and Mercer replied that he had given the matter no special attention. Not satisfied with this Ballinger asked if Mr. Gouger had been seen that morning and suggested that Mr. Mercer should investigate around the house.

Horrible Find.

Acting upon this suggestion, Mercer went to the house and as he looked through the screen door of the kitchen he was horrified to see the lifeless form of Mr. Gouger upon the floor. The assassin had shot from the back porch. The load of buckshot had struck Mr. Gouger in the forehead and death must have been instantaneous.

By his side was his rifle, and five rifle holes could be seen in the door and side of the house where he had endeavored to stay the hand of his murderer, before he received his death wound. Just outside the kitchen door Mr. Gouger's own gun was found. Many theories have been advanced but it is the consensus of opinion that the murderer, knowing that Mr. Gouger was alone, went into the house after the killing and brought out his gun and placed it there so as to confuse the authorities. The murderer either entered the house by the kitchen door or made such a noise that it caused Mr. Gouger to get up from his bed to investigate this noise and he probably saw the party on the back porch and fired.

The evidence points very strong towards Sam Ballinger, the colored man who was the first to come and ask if Mr. Gouger had been seen Thursday morning.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

"Faust" Was Presented By Willard's Comedians in Creditable Manner.

Another good sized audience witnessed the production of "Faust" by Willard's Comedians at the opera house last night. The play was presented with a full electrical and scenic equipment and the company was fully equipped. Ed W. Hubbard as Faust, had a delicate role with a skill that proved him to be an actor of ability. Louis Anderson in the title role of "Faust" won honor for himself by his interpretation of the role. Hemstead Prince was a capable Valentine. Miss Helen De Vere as Marguerite, held the interest of the audience throughout, and Mrs. G. E. Tilden as the gossiping Marie Martha, caused many laughs.

The minor roles were all well taken and the company lived up fully to the reputation established by them on the opening night.

The specialties between the acts were all good. The Lilliputians, Baron Liabie and Princess Littlefinger, scored another big hit. Miss Mildred Bell, in her singing specialty, found instantaneous favor. Bill E. Morrissey had a comedy act, and there were new moving pictures.

This afternoon there will be a special matinee for the ladies and children. The play will be "Buster Brown's Holiday." It introduces the well-known character of Buster Brown and the other characters associated with him. It is full of laughs from start to finish. As an extra feature, at the conclusion of the matinee the Lilliputians, Baron Liabie and Princess Littlefinger, will hold a reception on the stage for the ladies and children, affording an opportunity for all to meet these famous little people.

The engagement will close tonight, when the farce-comedy, "He Could Not Marry Two," will be presented. This is the same play that enjoyed long runs in the larger cities of the country. It is constructed for laughing purposes. The play hinges on an amusing case of mistaken identity, and there is not a dull moment in the whole piece.

The specialties will be changed at each of the performances today, and as an added feature at the matinee the moving pictures of the "Teddy Bears" will be shown for the benefit of the children.

ANOTHER GRAMPUS FOUND.

A Dangerous Bug Picked Up in Vicinity of Dayville.

There is a bug in this section of the country known as the grampus, and, according to all reports, he is a very dangerous sort of an insect. This grampus is a "fellow" who will protrude from a rotten tree, a decayed stump, or any other place where decayed matter is to be found, and before you know yourself, to use the expression, will inflict his sting, which will mean a great deal of trouble to you. His bite is said not to be poisonous, but very painful and annoying.

This grampus was captured near Dayville recently. He was brought to this city, where he is now on exhibition at the store of J. W. McCollum & Co., who placed the bug in alcohol.

It is said that the grampus is a native principally of the banana plant, and is very seldom found outside the confines of its native domain. There have been only two discoveries in this section of the country, the former having been found several years ago by a party on Santa Fe Lake.

The grampus, notwithstanding that it is only an inch and a half long when full grown, has a stinger which protrudes another inch and a half.

CLERK-CARRIER EXAMINATION.

Will Be Held Here Today—A Dozen Applicants Entered.

The examinations for clerk-carrier of the Gainesville postoffice will be held in this city today, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. It will be conducted in the council room at the City Hall building.

The examination will be conducted by E. Paul Brown, local secretary of the board.

The position sought pays from $600 to $900 per year, according to the grade and time of service. Of the twelve applicants, only three are white, which shows the neglect of opportunity of the white boy in this progressive age. Nobody is to blame, however but the boy.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

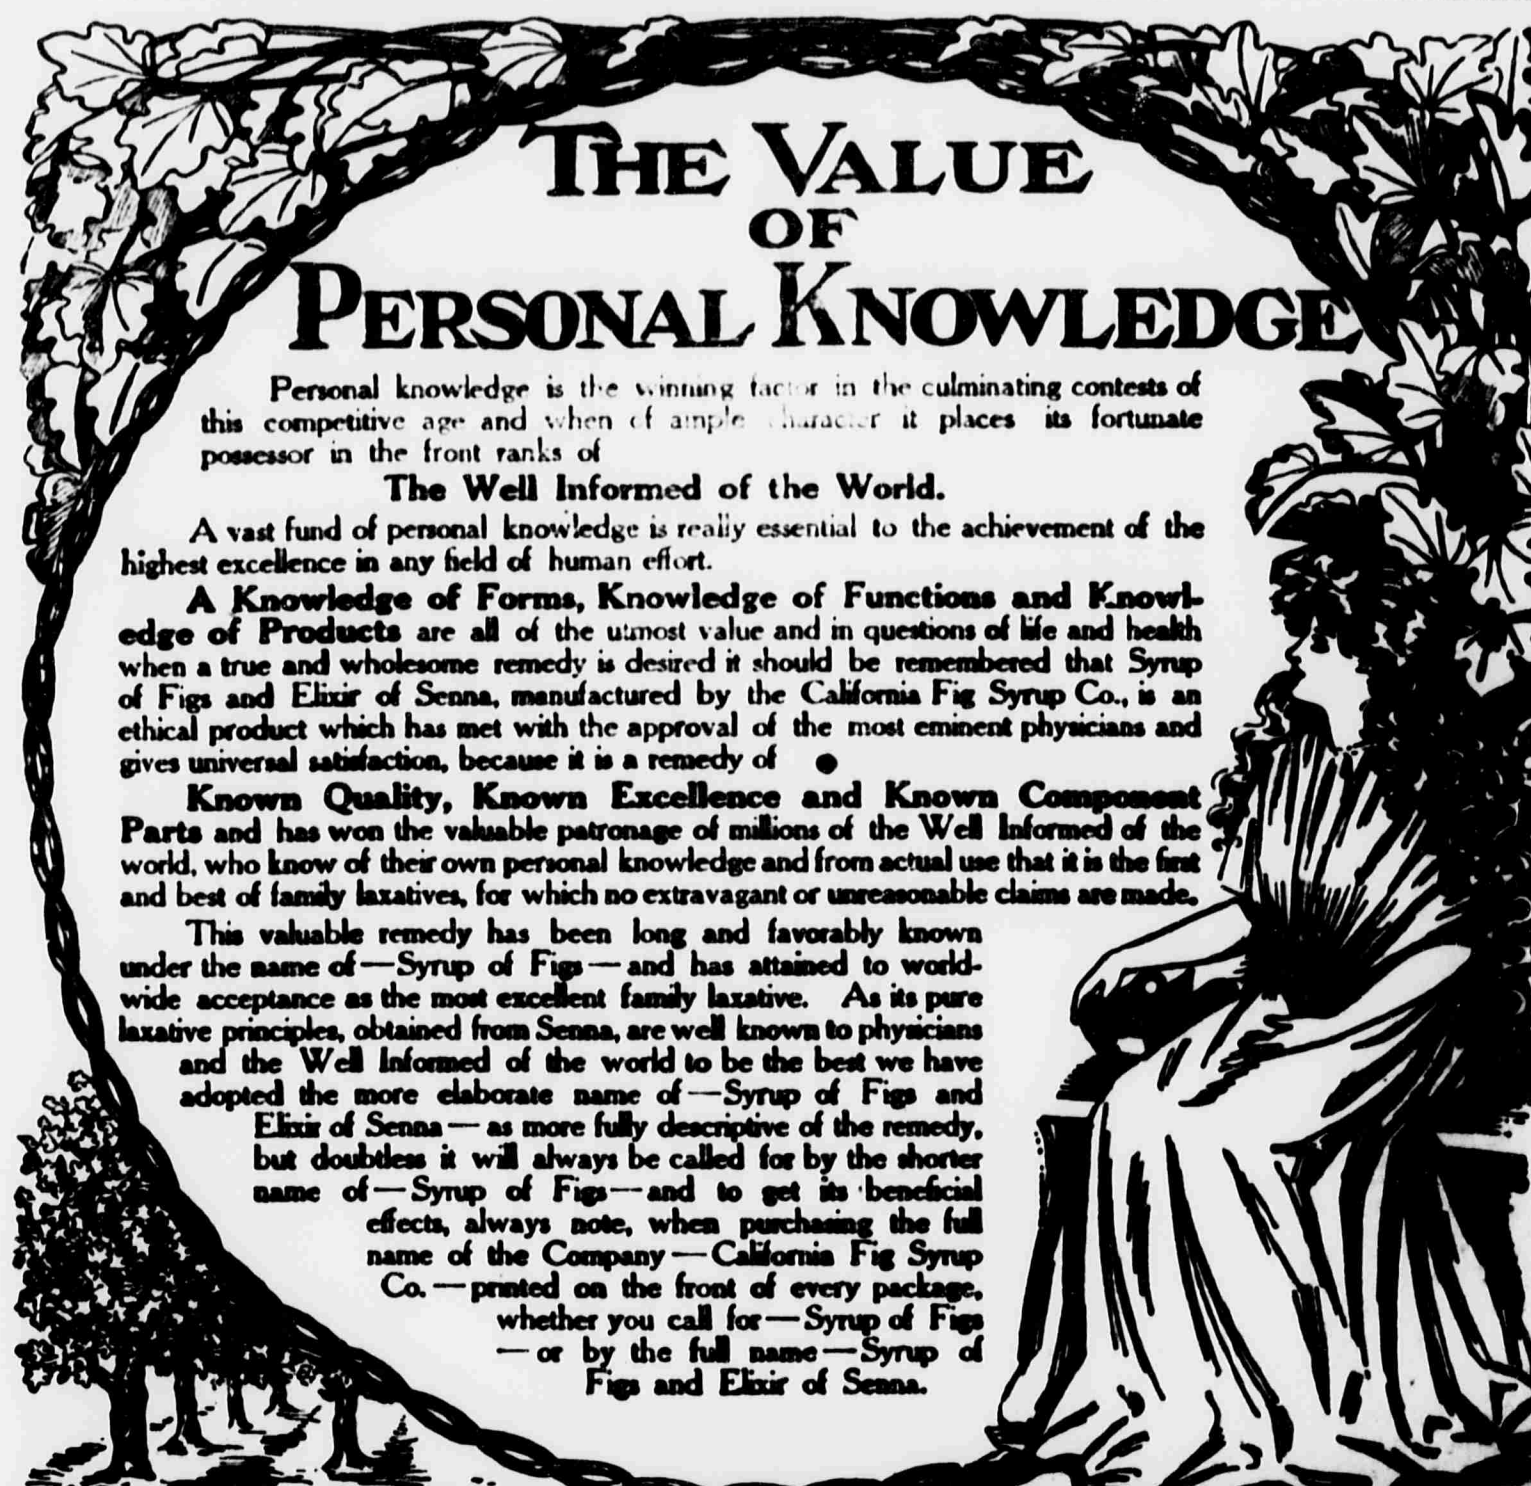

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

MEN ARE POWERLESS

To Fight Against Disease Unless They Strike at the Underlying Cause.

To treat Dandruff, and Falling Hair, with irritants or oils on which a parasitic germ will prosper, is like scooping water from the ocean to prevent the tide from rising.

You cannot accomplish a satisfactory cure without having a right understanding of the fundamental causes of the trouble.

You must kill the Dandruff Germ. Newbro's Herpicide does this because it is specially made to do that very thing.

When the germ is removed, the hair has no choice but to resume healthy growth and beauty.

"Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

CALVIN GILLIS DEAD.

Young Man Well Known Here Dies Suddenly in Atlantic City.

Calvin Gillis has been received in this city, who have been known as The Asheville (N. C.) Citizen, that Calvin Gillis, a young man formerly of Palatka and well known in this city, had expired suddenly while in bathing at Atlantic City, N. J., a few days ago.

Mr. Gillis, it appears from the note in the Asheville Citizen, of which he was the city editor, was at the time a very popular young man in that city, and gave the following information regarding his sudden death, which has cast a gloom over his friends, not only in Asheville, but in Florida as well.

A telegram received here from Asheville City conveyed the news which was soon found with sadness by many, that Calvin Gillis had dropped dead in that place. A telegram was sent to the body to be sent to Asheville.

Mr. Gillis was the son of Mrs. W. H. Gillis of 124 Montford avenue, and of the late Judge Calvin Gillis, who died here some years ago.

His mother is Miss Waddell Gillis. He lived here until some time ago, when he removed to Asheville, and from there he went some months ago to Baltimore. It was reported that he had made a trip to Asheville City for a day or two, but as the telegram was not received until late at night, messages sent by Mrs. Waddell Gillis for details received Asheville last night, until the report of the Asheville Press dispatch.

Mr. Gillis was a young man 31 years of age, and by all to whom he was known he was held in the highest esteem. He was of retiring disposition, but this did not conceal from his friends his true worth and sterling qualities. He was city editor of The Asheville Citizen for several years and later was connected with LaBarbe, Meade and Gillis, going from them to take the position of Secretary to President of the Land and Industrial Association of Alabama railways. He was a member of Pines Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of this city.

The Found Relief.

If you are troubled with liver complaints and have not received help from this, Mrs. Mary M. Hammond, of Tampa, says: "I was in poor health with liver trouble for over a year. Doctors did me no good and I was nearly dead. I bought and used Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and three bottles cured me. I can't say too much for it, as it is a wonderful liver medicine. I always have it in the house. Publish where you wish."

A Solemn Proceeding.

On Sunday there will be a solemn proceeding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Cook, the occasion being the circumcising of their son.

A child has been secured from Jacksonville, and the occasion will be attended by all the solemnity required for the rites of circumcision.

Mrs. Cook and the son are doing nicely, and it is expected that the ceremonies will pass off in a fitting manner.

Mr. Cook good-naturedly declares that "that boy" will be a winner. He was born on Sunday and will be circumcised on Sunday, hence he must be lucky for the balance of his life.

Who Pays For Your Printing?

Poor printing is a detriment to any business, and is an unprofitable investment. Poor printing is usually paid for twice—once when you settle with the printer, and again in the injury it does your business.

GOOD PRINTING PAYS FOR ITSELF!

In the added business it brings, in the complete satisfaction you feel in sending out neat, tasty stationery, and its first cost is soon on the credit side of the ledger. Good printing is remembered long after the price is forgotten.
